

Abernathy, Mr. Bill

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "PTP: Lessons Learned: The International Ice Patrol." p. 73
Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "PTP: A Feedback Mechanism." p. 86

Alexander, Mr. Duyane

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Seek and Destroy? The history of iceberg demolition experiments." p. 50

Baldinelli, Lt. Cmdr. Darnell

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Approval of Shoreside LNG Terminals. The Coast Guard's role and its relationship with FERC for siting onshore or near-shore LNG terminals." p. 66

Baldwin, Lt. Brandi

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Coast Guard MSC. Streamlines SOE Process." p. 45

Barker, Lt. Matt

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "The LNG Market and its Effects on Shipbuilding. Increasing demand for LNG fuels increased shipbuilding." p. 15
Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Chemical Transportation Advisory Committee. Marine industry members are working with the U.S. Coast Guard to ensure safe transport of potentially hazardous material." p. 15

Bates, Capt. Robert Stanley

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Mariner's Seabag: Roots of the National Maritime Center. Tracing the history of licensing from 1838 to the present." p. 88

Blakemore, Mr. D.

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Regional LNG Update. Energy demand fuels liquefied natural gas import site development in the Gulf of Mexico." p. 12

Book, Mr. Paul

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Chemical Transportation Advisory Committee. Marine industry members are working with the U.S. Coast Guard to ensure safe transport of potentially hazardous material." p. 15

Brown, Lt. Cmdr. Callan

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Examining the Excelsior. Completing the initial COC examination of the first-ever LNG carrier with onboard regasification." p. 59

Brown, Mr. Greg

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Reflagging the Westpac Express. Partnerships at work." p. 31

Buchsbaum, Lt. Dan

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Cleaning Up Wastewater. The Coast Guard, state and federal regulators, and the cruise ship industry collaborate to improve wastewater quality." p. 9

Cavo, Mr. James D.

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Merchant Mariner Training." p. 18

Chroninger, Chief Warrant Officer Scott

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "LNG Carrier Construction in Asia. Rising demand fuels rising construction." p. 43

Chubb, Mr. William St. J.

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Merchant Mariner Records. Question: What do James Garner, Carroll O'Conner, and Woody Guthrie have in common? Answer: Each of them, along with 2 million other people, has a personnel record as a U.S. merchant mariner." p. 35

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Mariner Credentials." p. 38

Cratty, Mr. James W.

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Course Oversight. Protecting the validity of mariner credentials." p. 25

Curry, Lt. Cmdr. Anthony C.

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "An Overview of Regional Examination Centers. Strong teamwork has reduced the number of pending mariner applications over the past few years." p. 56

Cushing, Cmdr. John

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Approval of Shoreside LNG Terminals. The Coast Guard's role and its relationship with FERC for siting onshore or near-shore LNG terminals." p. 66
Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "An Interagency Success Story. Coast Guard partnerships with Minerals Management Service and Federal Energy Regulatory Commission." p. 27

Desh, Capt. Robert L.

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Walking in the Footsteps of a Hero. The leadership lessons of 'Iceberg' Smith—scholar, scientist, lifesaver, guardian, warrior." p. 60

Devall, Petty Officer Tim

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Sea Ice. The slow start to ice growth resulted in a 2003-2004 ice season with ice coverage that was much less extensive than normal." U.S. Coast Guard International Ice Patrol Staff, edited by Petty Officer Tim Devall, p. 14

D'Orazio, Lt. Cmdr. Derek A.

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "The Safe Transfer of Liquefied Natural Gas. Person-in-charge qualification requirements for bulk liquefied gas transfers." p. 54

Drayer, Lt. j.g. Patrick A.

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Merchant Mariner Physical Examination. A critical part of the mariner credential application process." p. 41

Eastburn, Cmdr. Robert

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Merchant Mariner Security Services. September 11, 2001, necessitated better screening for government-issued Merchant Mariner's Credentials." p. 44

Esposito, Mr. Francis H.

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Environmental Impacts of Coast Guard LNG Actions. NEPA analysis will be required for almost any action Coast Guard might take to license and LNG terminal." p. 70

Felleisen, Mr. Thomas

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "LNG Tank Designs. Special cargo requires specific design." p. 37

Fink, Capt. Ernest J.

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Champion's Point of View." p. 5

Francis, Petty Officer Sara

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "The New Style of Crab Fishery. U.S. Coast Guard and industry work together to make fisheries safer." p. 42

Furukawa, Mr. Jon

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "The New U.S. STCW Endorsement. Enhanced security features for the revised U.S. STCW Endorsement." p. 47

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Why Change Merchant Mariners Documents? Consolidating credentials is the right thing to do for taxpayers and mariners." p. 51

Gavelli, Dr. Filippo

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Liquefied Natural Gas Transportation. Risks and common misconceptions." p. 33

Gilmour, Rear Adm. T.H.

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Assistant Commandant's Perspective." p. 4

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Assistant Commandant's Perspective." p. 4

Goodridge, Cmdr. Nancy

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Systematic Improvement Makes Good Business Sense. Implementing ISO 9001: 2000 for the Mariner Licensing and Documentation Program." p.15

Gritz, Mr. Louis

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Liquefied Natural Gas Risk Management. Risk and safety issues resulting from large LNG spills over water." p. 25

Gronlund, Dr. Wayne R.

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "The U.S. Coast Guard Marine Safety Laboratory. Our history and missions." p. 63

Hammond, Lt. Cmdr. Mark

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Cove Point Risk Assessment. Coordination, risk-based decision making, and outreach were the keys to success." p. 87

Havens, Mr. Jerry

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; "LNG and Public Safety Issues. Summarizing current knowledge about potential worst-case consequences of LNG spills onto water." p. 29

Hewett, Ms. Amy

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Partnership in Action. Crew endurance management." p. 36

Hicks, Cmdr. Michael

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Champion's Point of View." p. 5

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "The U.S. Coast Guard International Ice Patrol.

The Coast Guard's first defense against one of the most dangerous maritime threats-the iceberg." U.S. Coast Guard International Ice Patrol Staff, edited by Cmdr. Michael Hicks, p. 6

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "The Spirit of International Cooperation. International Ice Patrol, in collaboration with other U.S. agencies and various international partners, works to keep mariners informed of ice danger." p. 41

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "North American Ice Service. An international partnership with the Canadian Ice Service, the National Ice Center, and the International Ice Patrol." p. 46

Hightower, Mr. Michael

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Liquefied Natural Gas Risk Management. Risk and safety issues resulting from large LNG spills over water." p. 25

Hill, Mr. Brian T.

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Mariner's Seabag: Ship Collisions with Icebergs. A brief review, past to present." p. 75

Hoffmann, Mr. Richard

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "FERC's Environmental Review Process. How the U.S. Coast Guard participates." p. 73

Jarboe, Lt. j.g. Nicolas A.

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "From Shipboard Sighting to Airborne Reconnaissance and Beyond. IIP seeks continuous improvement for methods of iceberg detection." p. 69

Jeffries, Lt. Cmdr. William T.

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Alaska's Extreme Ferries. How the high-speed ferry M/V Fairweather is making history in southeast Alaska." p. 19

Kallen, Ms. Dawn

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Update: Successful Enforcement of the Refuse Act. Following up on the article, "Illegal Sewage Discharges," from Winter 2004-2005. p. 99

Keane, Mr. David N.

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Implementing the WSA. Developing robust safety and security plans for onshore LNG facilities." p. 79

Kerlin, Mr. Donald J., P.E.

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "The National Maritime Center. Recent history and current missions." p. 6

Khalifa, Ms. Daisy R.

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Alaska's Extreme Ferries. How the high-speed ferry M/V Fairweather is making history in southeast Alaska." p. 19

Kiefer, Ms. Jennifer

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Cleaning Up Wastewater. The Coast Guard, state and federal regulators, and the cruise ship industry collaborate to improve wastewater quality." p. 9

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "2004 Maritime Casualty Statistics." p. 56

Kirchner, Mr. Albert G.

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Keeping the Ship Running. Budget, Administration & Planning: the "crew" in NMC's engine room." p. 31

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Pack Your Patience. Leave Your Ego at Home. One man's story of Hurricane Katrina recovery duty." p. 50

Krein, Petty Officer Tristan

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "The Foggy, Stormy Grand Banks. Weather challenges at International Ice Patrol." p. 34

Krinking, Cmdr. David

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "The Future of the National Maritime Center. Restructuring and centralization of the Mariner Licensing and Documentation Program." p.10

Krusa, Mr. Christopher E.

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Partners in Mariner Service. The interagency relationship between the National Maritime Center and MARAD." p. 71

Kytomaa, Dr. Harri

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Liquefied Natural Gas Transportation. Risks and common misconceptions." p. 33

Landry, Capt. Mary E.

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "LNG Safety and Security. A local Federal Maritime Security Coordinator's perspective." p. 83

Lane, Captain Mark K.

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Examining the Excelsior. Completing the initial COC examination of the first-ever LNG carrier with onboard regasification." p. 59

Lendvay, Lt. Michael

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Mariner's Perspective. The Diary of a REC Chief." p. 83

Lykens, Ms. Alisa

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "FERC's Environmental Review Process. How the U.S. Coast Guard participates." p. 73

Magill, Mr. James

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "An Interagency Success Story. Coast Guard partnerships with Minerals Management Service and Federal Energy Regulatory Commission." p. 27

Maguire, Mr. Dennis M.

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Implementing the WSA. Developing robust safety and security plans for onshore LNG facilities." p. 79

Malinoski, Lt. Zachary

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Third-Party Technical Review. NVIC 03-05 opens the door for certifying entities to review LNG deepwater ports." p. 63

McCadden, Lt. Cmdr. Mark

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Harbor Safety Committees. Enhancing Waterway Suitability Assessments." p. 93

McGovern, Mr. Andrew

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Merchant Marine Personnel Advisory Committee. The relationship between MERPAC and NMC is a busy one." p. 77

McKechnie, Mr. Joseph E.

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Liquefied Natural Gas Shipment. Public-private partnerships facilitate safety, security, and reliability." p. 18

McLaughlin, Ms. Diana

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "PTP: Lessons Learned: The International Ice Patrol." p. 73

Medina, Ms. Mayte

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "An Umbrella Plan. Coordinating the efforts involved in refining the Mariner Licensing and Documentation Program." p. 8
Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Standards of Training, Certification, and Watchkeeping. Yesterday, today, and tomorrow." p. 75

Mentzer, Mr. Ray A.

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Implementing the WSA. Developing robust safety and security plans for onshore LNG facilities." p. 79

Miller, Cmdr. Tom

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Liquefied Natural Gas Shipment. Public-private partnerships facilitate safety, security, and reliability." p. 18

Monib, Mr. Kareem M.

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Engineering Safety Review of Shoreside LNG Facilities. FERC's engineering safety review of LNG terminals is important to a safe and reliable operation." p. 76

Morris, Mr. Anthony

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Systematic Improvement Makes Good Business Sense. Implementing ISO 9001:2000 for the Mariner Licensing and Documentation Program." p. 15

Murphy, Dr. Donald L.

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Seek and Destroy? The history of iceberg demolition experiments." p. 50

Nash, Capt. Roy

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "The Marine Safety Center. A commitment to partnerships." p. 61

Nicklous, Mr. Joseph J.

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Accidents, Incidents, Mistakes, and the Lessons Learned From Them. The (sometimes) volatile history of natural gas." p. 22

O'Donnell, Ms. Lauren

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "FERC's Environmental Review Process. How the U.S. Coast Guard participates." p. 73

Offutt, Lt. Cmdr. Todd

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Mariner's Perspective. The Diary of a REC Chief." p. 83

Oelschlegel, Cmdr. Chris

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Examining the Excelsior. Completing the initial COC examination of the first-ever LNG carrier with onboard regasification." p. 59

Prazek, Mr. James

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Chemical Transportation Advisory Committee. Marine industry members are working with the U.S. Coast Guard to ensure safe transport of potentially hazardous material." p. 15

Prescott, Mr. Mark

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "LNG and the Deepwater Port Act. Responding to increasing domestic demand for natural gas." p. 56

Randall, Mr. Frank

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "National Maritime center and Military Sealift Command. Partnering to win against terrorism." p. 80

Rasnake, Lt. Jeff

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Coast Guard Ice Operations. The ability to provide highly effective icebreaking services poses the greatest challenge when it is needed the most." p. 10

Rodriguez, Ms. Lucy

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Compressed Natural Gas. An alternative to liquefied natural gas." p. 39

Saburn, Mr. Brendan

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Mariner Documentation Program. Licensing and Documentation examinations." p. 22

Schneider, Dr. A

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "LNG: Liquefied Natural Gas. What is it? Is it safe? What is the Coast Guard doing about it?" p. 6

Shipway, Ms. Diane

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Recovering the Pacific Gayle. Logistics and teamwork." p. 40

Simpson, Lt. Cmdr. Doug

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "The Marine Safety Center. A commitment to partnerships." p. 61

Sirois, Rear Adm. R. Dennis

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Assistant Commandant's Perspective." p. 4

Skelton, Ms. Anne E.

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Mariner's Seabag. 2005 Association for Rescue at Sea Awards." p. 62

Skordinski, Mr. Mark

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Liquefied Natural Gas Shipment. Public-private partnerships facilitate safety, security, and reliability." p. 18

Smith, Ms. Chrystal

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "2004 Maritime Casualty Statistics." p. 56

Smith Lt. Cmdr., USCG Ret., Mr. Ken

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Third-Party Technical Review. NVIC 03-05 opens the door for certifying entities to review LNG deepwater ports." p. 63

Stengel, Senior Chief John

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Icebergs. Northern Greenland's primary glaciers are some of the fastest-moving and most productive in the world." U.S. Coast Guard International Ice Patrol Staff, edited by Senior Chief John Stengel, p. 17

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Oceanography. The International Ice Patrol has been closely associated with the development of oceanography over the past eight decades." U.S. Coast Guard International Ice Patrol Staff, edited by Senior Chief John Stengel, p. 21

Stockwell, Lt. Jenn

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Chemical Transportation Advisory Committee. Marine industry members are working with the U.S. Coast Guard to ensure safe transport of potentially hazardous material." p. 15

Stoermer, Lt. Scott A.

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Tracking Icebergs. A brief history of iceberg modeling at the International Ice Patrol." p. 25

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Airborne Reconnaissance at International Ice Patrol. Achieving effective ice reconnaissance while maintaining crew and aircraft safety." p. 55

Stromberg, Ms. Kriste

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "PTP: A Feedback Mechanism." p. 86

Sugden, Captain Greg

Vol. 62, No. 4; Industry Success Stories; Winter 2005-2006; "Ferrying Success. How the Washington State Ferry System, the marine industry, and Coast Guard teamed up to deliver a new class of ferry." p. 6

Teel, Mr. David

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "An industry Responds to Security Concerns. The U.S. Coast Guard, working in concert with other maritime agencies, seeks to certify security training." p. 28

Thomas, Capt. Lorne

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Champion's Point of View." p. 5

Tootle, Petty Officer William

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Greenland Patrol. The war years." p. 65

Walker, Mr. Stewart

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "Obtaining a Mariner's Credential. An overview of the process." p. 54

Willeford, Lt. Cmdr. Byron

Vol. 62, No. 1; International Ice Patrol; Spring 2005; "Ice Patrol Duty. IIP personnel and the Aviation Mission Specialist insignia." p. 31

Willis, Mr. Thomas

Vol. 62, No. 2; National Maritime Center; Summer 2005; "The Long Journey Home. Centralizing the National Vessel Documentation Center." p. 66

Wright, Mr. Jeff C.

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "The Developing Market for LNG in the United States. Demand for natural gas is expected to exceed supply." p. 8

Yamamoto, Dr. Hisashi

Vol. 62, No. 3; Liquefied Natural Gas; Fall 2005; "Manning the Ship. The rapid expansion of the LNG fleet and the implications for seafaring human resources." p. 47

